Bryan Kansas, MD
Board Certified Urologist

Bryan Kansas, MD sees both male and female patients, but has a special interest in the diagnosis and treatment of erectile dysfunction in men. In the course of his practice, Dr. Kansas has distinguished himself, in Central Texas, as a leader in penile implant surgery – having implanted over 800 penile prosthesis since beginning his medical practice. He is also well known for his interest in the treatment of low testosterone in both men and women—maintaining a philosophy of educating patients about the causes of Low T; tailoring treatment options with patients for best outcomes, and teaching patients to administer their own injections when applicable. Dr. Kansas has now treated hundreds of patients with the ESWT protocol and has seen significant results with his customized protocols.
